Experience

2003 - Present

Owner/Producer/Director @ E.F. Productions, LLC

From Pre to Post Production delivery of digital media content for business and individual clients including B2B services for other production companies. Over the years I have been active in feature film, documentary, television, ads for television and Web, event coverage, live Web & broadcast production, educational and industrial, promotional and music video production.

1985 - 2003

Worked part time for production businesses as a camera operator/production personnel. During these same years I was full time employed with different businesses and worked part time as a consultant/technician.

PRODUCTIONS:

More recent work has included promotional and TV ad production. Working on Television productions such as: The Voice, House Hunters International, Doomsday Preppers, and Safari Hunters Journal. Other production services working with out of state production crews for promotional and live Webcasting operations.
