Amy Farid moved to NYC on a greyhound bus to follow her dreams of being a celebrity hairstylist. She began her hair career at the renowned bumble and bumble salon. The founder of Bumble and bumble saw Amy's passion for hairstyling and invited her to assist some of the most successful hairstylist in the world. She became a must have backstage at New York, Milan and Paris fashion weeks. Amy got her first agent in 2004 and has since led many teams backstage and on photoshoots for over 20 years. Amy is a proud member of the Osage nation and carries her culture with her every place she goes. She has travelled all over the world but her favorite trip every year is back home to the Osage reservation to participate in the Inlonschka. The Osage ceremonial dances are special to her because it is a homecoming for her family. Amy is overjoyed to be around the large number of Osage people all under the arbor. Something she doesn't get to experience in her day to day life on photo shoots and red carpet styling in nyc and LA. In March of 2025 Amy launched her Podcast Let's Have a Powwow. It was a dream she had for a long time and finally made happen. She is inspired to use her platform to highlight Indigenous excellence all over Indian country.

SUITE CAROLINE SALON NYC-2013-2020

Assisted in opening a salon in soho New York. Collaborated with the owner on choosing Location and employees. I helped create the first two Hair campaigns for Salon from casting to styling on set. In addition to taking on new hair cutting clients and retaining clients from previous Salon, Bumble and bumble.

BUMBLE AND BUMBLE HAIRSTYLIST — 2002-2013

I became a hairstylist on the floor at Bumble and bumble after a 2 year apprenticeship. After apprenticeship, you are tested on haircuts to exit the assistant program. It is then my responsibility to meet new haircut clients and give them beautiful haircuts so that they return.

ASSISTANT AT BUMBLE AND BUMBLE — 2000-2002

As an assistant at Bb. I was responsible for checking clients in and making sure the stylist I was assisting was on time. At the end of the haircut I was required to finish the haircut with a beautiful blow out. We had class days on Monday where I would cast and bring in models to practice fundamental haircuts on. I would usually cast young college students who were willing and open to get free haircuts and who were open to being experimental with their hair. I created a Polaroid portfolio of my models during this time. I still cut clients from this time.
